

Title: Wizanda's Quotes

Subtitle: Spiritual Oneness

Author: wizanda

Date: 2025/3/12

URL: <https://www.wizanda.com/modules/article/view.article.php/c2/304>

Keywords: Quotes, Enlightenment, Oneness, Unconditional Love, Wisdom

Summary: Here is our quotes over the years in one place; feel free to share

If we desire to have a fit body: work towards having one too.

If we want an enjoyable life, try to enjoy whatever we are doing.

When we stop too long, it requires more effort to get moving again.

On this mountain of consciousness: there have been many guides, many sense entheogen elevator inside.

Everyone wants to put their oar in, yet not many want to row.

Choosing to plant the seeds when the weather is right, gains more yield.

Taking more than we need, causes us to live insufficiently; whilst using just live sufficiently.

Trying to always have just enough, makes us live like there is sufficient;
enough, makes us start to feel that there is insufficient.

Emotionally we have to internally deal with one foundation at a time, before on.

Don't rush the feminine, as their rhythm is in time with the cosmos.

When we know we've got it, we don't need to make up for it - it's only when we're always trying to make up for it.

Strive to survive, until we learn to thrive, and then we can help others become

What if filling our space doesn't provide the happiness, using it does.

Digest what we're comprehending properly first, before shoving something don't properly absorb what we're taking in, and then it can keep coming back

Want to hit our targets everyday? Work from our reserves, not the extras

If we keep allowing ourselves to be downtrodden, eventually we can become can learn to get stronger.

Fibonacci symmetries are attractive.

An upgrade works as a better incentive, than a bonus.

Want to sell it to people? Ask what they've wanted to buy.

We've got to have had the losses, so that we can understand why something understanding, that we can then comprehend what's needed to win.

When we don't give exact orders, don't expect someone to follow them.

Many try to cut corners, when quality takes having it assuredly throughout.

It's only when we've tested our strength against something weaker, that we are.

Living in abundance - doesn't mean using it all in one go, yet keeping enough plenty.

When we take the supporting roles, rather than everyone always wanting more space, so that everyone can be seen & heard.

If we make a point of getting somewhere, it then gives us a sense of achievement.

It's appealing to slowly peel it off.

Obsession for progression - leads to upgrading compulsions.

If we don't reach towards our own potential, we won't feel truly fulfilled.

When we've turned all the mirrors onto ourselves, we don't see those around us.

Don't slow down so much that we stagnate, and don't go so fast that we forget.

The whole of reality is the Word of God - so we all come from the Divine.

When we're the smartest person in the classroom, stop being the class-captain.

When we know we can get to each other, that is when it can strike home.

Doing things beyond expectations to begin with, often saves us more time.

Hippies - People connected to the earth by them being hip.

'Not all classrooms have four walls' - prisons do.

When we share potential with something that hasn't got the capacity to absorb it, it's deflected elsewhere.

If we share with something dull, part is absorbed, yet not enough potential is used.

momentum.

When it all feels too much, recognizing it isn't all - can let us recalibrate.

A fit mind aspires to those who are better, and the unhealthy blame those who are not.

A feeling of winning can make us want to keep achieving certain tasks, and a feeling of losing can make us want to stop.

Moving closer to our own goals everyday, makes our life feel like it has meaning.

Everyone has God's spirit within - as the Source of reality is everything.

If we wish to achieve something, be proactive, not inactive.

There is a difference between telling someone, and showing how something is done.

We either keep telling ourselves it's not going to happen or start planning to make it happen.

We say, "They're fit!", as we recognize fitness makes us more attractive.

Imbuing sensuality creates vitality's vibrancy.

Talent without any action doesn't mean anything, and a life without finding purpose is not life driven.

When taking a polarized side, without understanding why the others exist, is not discerning.

When we've decided it's the right direction, we can then make more progress.

When we consider there is more interactions for a disaster, than a success, we are not perfect=

A smile costs nothing, and can make us more beautiful for free.

Flexing the gonads produces kundalini i.e. hormones.

Weighing up the potential, lets us quantify if it's worthwhile.

Lethargicness is contagious; motivation takes movement.

Feng Shui spacing, makes room to think.

The effort to make something grow, can come from quickly planting the seeds.

Until we're willing to question all beliefs, we can't have a completely honest conversation.

Let go of wanting to rule the Stanford Experiment, and counteract the placebo effect in the Stanford Experiment.

When in a spin, facing the direction earlier, controls the destination.

A sense of completion drives us.

Don't work faster, work more efficiently.

It's detrimental to productivity telling ourselves we can't, when we can.

Why keep waiting until we become uncomfortably numb=

For something to become popular, it generally has to be quick & easy for

Flailing without direction, leads to us sinking; if we can't set a course th to relax, float, and meditate on what motivates us.

When we recognize laziness causes detrimental effects, it can motivate u

In better understanding our own character, it can make us less reactiona why we interact, rather than overreact.

We need to be creating a symphony with nature, not just living in harmon

Dharma is one's natural duty: Where we're meant to eat entheogens, and Try smiling as a pastime - it makes us happy.

Atheism is like computer game characters misunderstanding that there ha Central Processor).

We grow from salts, and we use sugar as fuel; too much salt overloads th sugar spoils us.

Fixing an overload, requires time & release, to make space for dilution.

When determined to achieve our own goals, we don't always consider oth

React positively because we can, not only because we can exploit.

Overcoming stresses, gives us opportunity to grow - when we don't allow

When we want to be a support - get stronger.

A utopia that doesn't deal with the detrimental denominators, is a dystop happen.

It's easier to pass blame, than to apologize, and change our ways.

If we weren't down near Hell, then the biggest demons wouldn't be runnin

Start with the smaller tasks that are achievable, so that the big goals ge

Knowing it's our duty, incentivize us to achieve.

We're in Charlie's Chocolate Factory, and some of the illegal flowery wafers we're in an advanced cartoon.

If we can't debate the polemic argument, we don't know both sides of a coin unbiasedly.

Everyone's mental health would be so much better, if we all stopped warring because of who they are.

If you gave some people every clue, they'd still be clueless.

Be the dream that you wish to see.

We either stay with an obstacle in front of us or we get more efficient to overcome it.

Catch up first, before taking extra weight, else both are delayed more in time.

If we're not warriors for righteousness down near Hell, we're most likely to be there.

Many seek justice, as they've felt injustice.

Joining waves in the same direction, amplify each other; a wave splashing against a wall creates power in the opposite direction.

If we share an equation with those who can not understand the sum, we're not solving that won't be solved.

The jurisdiction that we put ourselves under, sets the ethical boundaries for our actions.

When we leave things to the last minute, things can happen we didn't plan for.

In only seeking success we become complacent; whereas for every time we fail we grow stronger.

Without any aim, it can seem a bit pointless.

Momentum is needed to lift easier, and lifting weight causes inertia.

That same energy used to calculate worrying, can be used for fixing things.

Wisdom is found in recognizing the contrast; thus if we didn't have the contrast, there's no wisdom.

The difference between a dream & a nightmare, is when we deal with the situation we control the situation.

In letting go of trying to be one, we allow the space to be nothingness.

If we ask someone to help, who is buckling under the weight, they can carry the weight, then ask for help.

Ultrasonic frequency underwater creates Sonoluminescence; souls down in their resonance create light.

We can only quantify a certain number of decisions at one time efficiently.

Whilst still needing to compete with the children, we're still being childish.

It is better to learn to swim in the shallows, and then move into the deep, once you've understood how to float.

In the middle of the chaos, we can always compose harmonies within the noise.

Repeating a name as soon as we hear it, helps us recall it later.

A strong connection to God, can make a loser feel like a winner.

We often get exploited trying to gain reward.

Blame mentality becomes habitual; repeatedly winning creates positive energy.

Victim mentality is contagious - so is winning.

It's relaxing when we're not having to be something, and instead can just be.

We can not truly assess how wise something is, until we fully understand it.

If we always go half a mile, it's harder when we try to do two.

The complex equations we seek to be fulfilled by others, come from the complexity of life.

Chi requires flow to become initiated.

Dilemmas allow us opportunities for rectification.

Trying to reason with those who don't deal with the evidence, means the evidence is against the self.

For everyone not meditating on their issues, is another part of the universe left unresolved.

The system has to keep being optimized to be intuitive; yet people keep thinking it fixes the problems.

Serving our desires only temporarily fulfils us; long term fulfilment is more about the process.

Continual newness within the moment, leads to renewable contentment.

We get lax when in routine; so keep it original.

Creating momentum within, can help us be driven.

Learn to reflect with those interested in the same concepts, as then it in with those bored at the concept, diminishes our energy invested.

The natural flow of things, causes us to relax.

Whilst competing with others, we can't all win together.

When someone always goes half a mile, going two doesn't always help in rowing in two directions, gets us nowhere.

Cymatics shows that certain frequencies create perfect patterns, implying the right harmonies, it will resonate in a well structured way; whereas with harmony, the mechanisms within it will be imbalanced.

Finding the roots of the anger, and transducing it into something constructive, punching the wall, and physically doubling the anger.

Rather than only seeking happiness in what is quickly attainable, working sustainable is more fulfilling.

Realizing that everything wants treats, is a secret to finding success.

Larger than life characters don't fit into the preconditioned boxes, that provides.

The Source of reality doesn't give us everything we want, yet with better beings; in learning to strive to survive, we learn to attain strategic

Time & space both exist inside a linear time frame, and have a sense of dimensions beyond infinity, we start to exist as a part of cosmic music.

If we research other perspectives, we can test what are the clearest paths

The object exists regardless of objections.

Captain Hook has been torturing the Children, to make here seem like it

Before claiming to be altruistic, first check if it's for selfish reasons or Something that takes more time, generally has more sustainability.

Life is only meaningless without purpose.

When someone is driven by a goal, they are determined, and have faith to accomplish; it can be depressing having no direction, and failing to achieve

Imagine if we gave gold stars for learning to help others, rather than just a compassionate society it could create.

The problem with presenting ourselves in the best light, is we produce content that presents shadows, allowing the space to be illuminated.

First focus our attention deeply within, before depleting it outwardly.

Try being sweet, before bitter, else it leaves a nasty taste.

Only when we reach the darkest places, do we look for the light.

Governments have used religions to make wars.

If we don't properly assess our steps, we can fall over them later; thus steps are caused by each step.

It's easier when we say, "We can do it."

We win when we have the same goal.

Don't resent adversity, grow from it.

Indoctrination isn't a belief, and isn't faith.

We're meant to learn to be ascending on the Highway to Hell.

Careful when going the extra mile, that we don't make others learn less.

Accusative forces thrive on us finding an enemy.

On the road to Babylon, the bumps can make love into live.

The flock loves those who've fed them, not the source of the food.

Many build upon the Pebbles, rather than the Rock; evangelizing death, not life.

Don't be so silent, that we're not honest.

How to expound on profound points, when we only keep to a script.

Before getting on with something, first make sure we're getting somewhere.

God is not a being; it is everything.

Practise creates faith; knowing we can achieve, leads to confidence.

God wants all of us to learn to be unconditionally loving, and wise enough to know when to stop.

Having something doesn't provide the happiness, cherishing it does.

In the name of Christendom: the white skins killed the red skins, treated with the pale skins have caused war & famine.

Cannabis makes life's sensations vibrant.

Reading only one thing leads to confirmation bias; reading multiple leads perspectives.

True religion is meant to be about altruism, not martyrism.

Women know life can be a bloody mess, and still get on with it; it can ta and some have a hard time dealing with it.

Ultimately, find what makes the maths work.

Meditating on what causes something, helps us find ways to identify wha

Complacency comes from placating what's important.

If we don't want to be shallow, we need to go deeper.

We should always question any angle that is sharp, as it cuts for a reaso

If we've had to live a nightmare, we then try to live a dream, and if we'v can then find the hardships more of a nightmare.

Alcohol leads to less balance; though it might make us feel high to begin after, and long term abuse leaves us feeling down.

Exploring ideas feels fresh; returning to beliefs can be tedious.

We can't run from a gun; turn and stun, provides a better outcome.

Rather than compete with congestion, creating our own way, provides ple

Intimacy is relayed within.

Religion has helped create our cohesive moral social fabric; thus in fixing our society to be more ethical.

Christ didn't come to die for sin; yet to catch out those who'd accept the

The 10 Commandments are the steps of Jacob's Ladder.

It isn't about believing a Gospel, it is about living it.

A Klang in German can imply the fundamental Sounds of the Universe... S Klanger", could imply, 'Causing a Cacophony'.

Stop believing want to, & start understanding how to.

Often we're asked for a "Yes" or "No" answer; where that forces an opinion unsure..

Thus asking for a scale of "0-10" or "0-100%" is easier; as it then allows much.

Aspiring to have something, can give life a sense of purpose.

Until we've truly decided where it is we're wanting to get to, we will pass time to reach it.

When we've decided where we'd like to get to, we can create a route that Cautiously take the path that the troll allows us to.

Not always "as easy as Pi"; when we don't find the center.

Recognizing why those who could trip us up later do so, subsequently means obstacles overall.

Tensing tones; repetition shapes.

Before we can truly heal, we've got to deal with the root of the pain.

If we don't like being in our own environment, it affects our whole being;
& maintain the home we're within.

When we truly apologize, we allow a space (-1), for others to then give back can be resolved.

Remember to give the Source of reality a hug, it will hug you back.

Educating ourself, makes us learn the lies are unreal.

By connecting to the Oneness within each of us, we can access infinite wisdom at its Source.

People have a tendency to keep adding new stuff to projects, and not enough revitalizations; where improving the system leads to longevity in a project.

School for me, was where we'd go to a comedy club to heckle the entertainer headmaster didn't have the same sense of humour.

Will power can be driven by logic; when we know something is illogical, we

To fix the Big Black Dog of depression:

Don't use chemicals to patch it up, else you damage the host, not the system.
Don't put all your issues out in one go, looking for quick solutions.
Learn to internally push through the traumas one by one, in deep meditation.

Make everything in life an art.

Life is a beautiful adventure playground, with lots of obstacles to overcome and beautiful scenery.

Perfection takes time, and timing takes perfection.

Unconditional-love is omnidirectional; whereas love is often a reflection.

Learn to alchemize negatives into positives, and create inner space from chaos.

When out of the mire, we can pull others out; yet whilst still in it, we can't.

Christ taught repentance for the forgiveness of sin; the Pharisees taught legalism and payment.

Internet Trolls say snide things to aggravate others; as they think their clever and intelligent answers win the audience, and people question the morality of their actions.

Taxing everyone to support the military-industrial complex is a waste.

Having things doesn't bring fulfilment, if we don't make the most of what we have.

Become the inspiration we want to see.

Spending the time on what works best, is more efficient overall.

We need to keep fit, else gravity gets us down.

Building a sense of achievement, means setting goals, and fulfilling them.

Every step can be a spiritual experience, when we consciously participate in it.

To feel we're on the right path, our purpose has to match our destiny.

Be prepared like we're in the A-Team.

It isn't religion & politics that is the main problem, it is the cultism.

Building ourself up, elevates our situation; so then we can lift others up.

The object of our desires has to start within.

When we go the extra mile, we get stronger in the process.

Learning not to fight the process; makes it we recognize the mistakes qu experience more.

What are we here for? Too coexist!!

Many religiously minded people have this boolean way of thinking, where false, & null'; whereas it is far more logical to recognize everything is q

In recognizing the opposites of evil, we can become wiser.

If we spent less time on how much we hate the other side, and more on h we'd get more done.

When we assume something highly complex is simple, we can miss the ad overlooking the authenticity.

It would be like trying to solve algebra with a hammer, and claiming it wo down.

We ask, "Why do the good die early?", because they've been released fo

When trying to teach a megalomaniac, they'll add it to their own status, to Using adequate weights, means we train less, and gain more in return.

Reliable profit comes from maintaining a good product; not exploiting ev need to recognize that sustainability, is seriously far more important, th else.

People are self serving; thus to motivate them, all we have to do is prom themselves.

The clues we're on a show, is the deliberate mistakes; where we won't se back to look at the scene.

It's not always what we've got, yet how much we make of it.

The less we understand, the more we look for hope in solutions that don'

If we're always busy, we have no time for gardening; then the weeds can cramped in our own mind.

Having a religion doesn't make people righteous, action does.

In finding the things we've lost, we can take stock in the things we have

When we remove all boundaries in questioning all perspectives: where re science & spirituality are all part of understanding, we are all just music

We become the role we've been playing.

Letting go helps; realizing it is all Maya, and therefore the Code doesn't transform.

We exist within a Oneness of Source Code; the Source exists beyond the a state of Oneness.

Taking what is sacred, and profaning it, lowers societal values.

Our vitality is regulated by our hormones; where arousal comes from con

No one can steal our light, only temporarily dull it; as the more pain we for the fire that lights within.

Sometimes it seems we have to learn our lessons the hard way, regardless

Learn to process one aspect of our contentions at a time, nurturing, & re neglected within the experience.

Don't pray for a person to change, pray for Source to change them.

People would rather not look for their own inner demons, if they can blam

Stronger integrity allows us to bounce off each other, and lift up those w

The problem of making some alternate force to God, is that there is One Nothing exists unless it's allowed to.

As two people's perspectives will be slightly different, truth is generally perspectives justify the same, we view this as objective.

The need to be in love with someone, can distract us from being in love

If we share the load with someone, and they push more weight onto us by concepts, it can make it heavier.

The stuff we put off, we still have to think about.

If we share our drive with those not motivated in the same direction, we

If someone is not all there, they can only meet you where they are at.

Trying to share logical equations, with someone illogical, leads to wonky

Getting up and having negative reinforcements can become habitual; we make positive equations.

If the system is not organic, unless people care, the machine won't fix it

Placebo operations can heal us; thus beliefs can make us ill.

Zen is the Colours, between the lights in the rainbow.
Zen is the sounds, that captures the imagination of the listener.
Dao is the art easel, to hold the Zen.
Faith is the water, that flows from the Dao to paint the Zen.

Anything you fight, can make it stronger; ego is a self defence mechanism.

If you use force to snap a twig (ego), it comes and hits you back.... If you snap a twig, that the chi is weak, it naturally wants to snap for you.

Whereas the self desires recognition; Oneness lets go.

The Kingdom of Heaven is like a children's playground; not a morgue!

Find inner peace, like a pearl being bashed about by the ocean; learn to find peace within the eye of a storm.

We are, as Oneness is.

Oneness isn't "I AM".

When you find the Bodhisattva within, you realize all have Nirvana (Oneness).
unawareness, that causes our misunderstandings.

When we finally let go, the answer is often there in front of us.

Part of being enlightened, is constantly removing the veils of delusion from us, thus it is in constantly seeking we free ourselves.

Try not to believe in anything; just let the evidence speak for its self.

If you unconditionally love your own; why is there a condition not to love others well?

Spirituality is about understanding ourselves within the Oneness of all.

Don't follow a religion, it is a way to keep people in groups; follow the Spirit.

The place where the religions are right, is Oneness being the ultimate goal of all commentary'.

Oneness is found in the center of all consciousness.

Oneness unifies; ego separates.

Learn to use negativity, as fuel for positivity.

We all have the same Oneness within us.

Oneness is ever prevailing; it is like the water that fills the oceans, Dharma (wisdom) resides within its core, unconditional love is its substance.

It is the many subtle colours each of us adds, that makes the light of Oneness.

Recognizing the Santana of our soul's melody, is a life time of progression within the Divine rhythms, it infinitely keeps evolving.

Heaven is the singularity (Oneness) in the center of all consciousness; the physical reality. God is the CPU and heaven is the RAM; we are in the hardware.

Find inner peace of your own song in nature, away from the cacophony of the world, become an integrated part, in an out of tune symphony.

A diamond doesn't reflect (love), it refracts and produces rainbows; so our reflections, can we become unconditionally loving.

0 x 1 = 1

We can push ourself up the hill, and become stronger or roll ourself into ourself.

Freeing is not needing to be being.

The unifying of people is for peace; yet a religion of killing everyone who isn't for peace.

When people think that the Word of God is a book; then that misses the point.

Only from the formless, can come all form.
Only from the selfless, can all selves dwell within it.
Only from the unmanifest, can come the manifest.
Only from an infinite perspective, can many finite perspectives exist within it.

Knowledge is found at the end of your nose, wisdom is found at the bottom of your feet, much of man's knowledge, and you won't see your toes, as your nose grows.

Until people feel acknowledged that they're being heard, don't expect them to change.

If we don't recognize the contrast, we don't see the differences.

When we are not willing to look at all the perspectives, that often leads to a narrow view without realizing we are.

Two tears in a bucket!!

If we cried for every rain drop's pain, eventually we'll drown.

It is often the ideas that excite us, more than the action.

When the ship is sinking, noticing it is a beautiful day, isn't the most important thing?
Believing in a Roman torture device, means we don't walk with a living King.
If someone isn't really interested in a subject, they're hardly going to give you their opinion.
With both eyes upon the Source of reality (God), allows people to hear what is being said.
If the internal equations don't add up, the external equations can seem different.
Introverts gang up on extroverts for being outspoken.

Movement creates momentum..
Making headway, allows us to see what destination we'd like to choose.
The more something sets us back, the more opportunity there is to catch up.
Invest energy in that which creates energy.

The periodic table proves we live in a matrix; where it's a mathematical reality.

The Universe is One Symphony; where everything is maths.

Some sky-daddy has replaced theology, when it was about understanding the world.
Don't think we're here to acquire a fan-club of righteous followers, as lots of people tried that in the past.

Stop running off from yourself; turn everything off, and sort yourself.

Learn to be grateful about the opportunity to grow from the negatives, & the moment reaching towards the light.

Compassion has to start closest; as systems conform, where we look for meaning rather than structure first.

Love the Source of reality first, everything else is transitory.

It is easiest to prove God first from mathematics, rather than faith.

Spirituality canonized makes a religion.

Rather than only believe our own reflections on a subject, be willing to consider other views.

If you have a doldrum (dulldrum), hit the drum with more energy or increase the volume.

Turn the reflection of attention inwardly, and listen to the Source at its own pace.

If rocks can become worshippers; salty people make great fertilizer.

Test logically what adds up; just because people agree, doesn't make it true.

Whilst our hands are full of pains from the past, it is harder to pick up our lives.

Meditate, step back, & internally massage the shoulders.

People who believe the 'devil' has power, are often scaremongers.

Spend less time trying to make followers, and more on being something worth following.

The diluted salts of suffering, can be used to encapsulate growth toward wisdom.

Belief is from the mind, and faith comes from the trust within the heart.

Make sure the support is solid enough to hold the weight.

Enjoy the show whilst it lasts, as the symphony's music produces happiness; but the completion is short lived.

A strong reaction, causes an opposite reaction.

It is sometimes better to go within, than to go without.

The body is a spacesuit for the soul.

Learning to meditate, and deal with each issue; helps make more tactical decisions around without making sensible steps; wastes more time.

When does caution become fear; when does assumption become insincere?

Bitching on a soapbox, isn't preaching righteousness.

Only when we don't focus outwardly, can we truly hear within.

The pain we've worked through, is then the strength to overcome tomorrow.

The more we divide our attention, the less attention we give.

Stop blaming others for being less than you are.

The river flows not to break its banks.

The tree produces fruit to spread its seed.

The sun blazes to use its fuel.

The flower radiates fragrance to be pollinated.

Thus learning to have something within to share, makes us a benefit for others.

Goals set drive; which sets faith.

No one else is going to get you fit.

If we bless or curse a karmic balance, we can affect the results.

Growth makes all beings feel more in themselves.

Build on what is known within a case, before dismantling it until there is Self worth comes from acceptance.

To master something we have to learn from the mistakes, and to begin to make.

A feeling of completion generates a sense of fulfillment; a feeling of missing emptiness.

People work best when inspired; pay doesn't make the soldier.

If you want someone to cope, then simple folks, like simple jokes; thus I than a rope that chokes.

From traumas we often learn the deepest wisdoms... It takes knowing the Disciplinary, not reactionary.

What is one being's waste, is another's wealth.

When we learn to sit doing our own counselling, doing nothing is really u

Before we find the strength to overcome, first we've got to set our heart

Many have an auto switch off to anything not inside their understanding; answer positively, makes the next answer more likely to be positive.

Only talking to obstinate people becomes conditioning.

Alcohol is a rotten crutch.

We've been taught to fight the sides, rather than see all the perspectives.

We should create a system that allows people to care.

When looking for positives down near Hell, we often come up with the wr Allow synchronicities to show us reality is inside a universal computer.

The narcissist will tell us how they are the hero; the saint will tell us ho

Learn to go deeper within the lows, to convert that growth into light.

True religion is one; whereas religions often come from a cult mentality, divide.

Weed regulates brain neurology, and psychedelics make us smarter.

Living the gospel, and preaching it, are two different things - only one b

Real communism is against fascism; which is what has taken over the wo corporatocracy.

Trying to save time, and blundering, can cost more than double.

People saying if we go there, "we'll be happy"; thus unhappiness resides
Come to the gym, "we'll get fit"; thus the alternative is laziness?
Slowly realized it all starts within, not without; else we're always seekin space endures.

A nervous breakdown is an overload of paperwork; depression is it gettin us down.

If we try to wake someone up, when they want to go back to sleep, they o

We don't level up without the effort.

Instead of medicate, which is to administer remedies or mediate to find a meditate, we find relief in measuring our feelings.

We're all like fallen angels with one wing, and inner demons we each hav each other's feathers off, claiming them not to be angelic; whereas when fly.

If we lack support: Allow our journey's depths to help us grow, in the dir towards.

External structures don't always go along with our journey; thus we can s too much outwardly.

Stronger the body, more it can fight its own symptoms.

When someone blames the person, rather than the system, it comes from

Many people are taking up meditation, not for woolliness; yet because sp means it becomes a pleasure to sit, and smell the flowers, rather than th

Polite-Lying-Ticks = Sucking the blood out of society.

Learn to sit quietly to deal with inner equations, as even music can beco

Every obstacle ignored can make us weaker; every climb can make us str

When we unconditionally love angels, they reflect back light.

We can mathematically prove the periodic table is a matrix, thus our reality.
The Fibonacci sequence is interwoven into the basics of reality, thus even the central Source.

True religion was about spiritual development, and entheogens; believing in is a cult.

Stresses cause change; therefore addressing the stresses, allows change.

Om Namah Shiva Ya.

Bhagavad Gita: Brahman is Brahman.

Yeshua caught out the Pharisees and Sadducees,

As Skanda is Sananda.

Is a nutcase nuts? We always need to understand the situation, before blaming.

Unless we're talking to a psychologist, then they might lock us up for being make us smarter, so we then realize we're inside a mathematical matrix - Logical.

Turn everything into metaphysics, and it hurts less then.

Focusing energy, creates more drive.

Part of feeling alive, is to create life.

How will someone who spends their life on their ego, then spend an infinite enjoy it?

Make energy our first priority, everything else comes after.
Put more in, to get more out.

Something glorious, creates shadows.

Anti-religious people are often proven insane by their lack of logic: We're quantum computer, where God is the CPU. The idea people don't understand everything can be shown to be equations, is thus illogical, and even delusional.

Achieving our goals like someone told us, "we're not even good enough to t

People will hammer down a nail that sticks out; yet when people realize hang things on, that nail can become famous in the right places.

Simple people like simple solutions; which makes it complex to explain the
t

Meditation isn't quiet, until the mind is empty.

With the right support, we can heal.

Reporting an error quickly and efficiently, isn't confrontational, it allows

Only we can make our self stronger, and no one can stop us being lazy, i

Buddha taught how we can systematically remove all ideas by seeing the come to a state of Nirvana when all obstacles are gone - Words muddy th

One gives one's heart to Oneness!!

When we stop flailing trying to tread water, and instead swim strong, we

Ageing badly is a choice - Alcohol is over a few years old rotten plants & old decomposing flesh; choose life.

It tastes better as a mix; we all get used to one variety too quick, so mix

Over multi-tasking can spread the paint too thin; learn to mix more paint and going without.

If we don't value our own light, often we will dull others.

Thus learn to be an inspiration, before claiming to be inspiring.

If we don't build our own personal space stronger, we can't show others

Sometimes when we're stuck on a ladder, the only option is to climb high control of the situation.

It is a bit pointless doing something, and not getting anywhere.

Joy is in the journey, and celebration is in the destination.

Scrolling our own memories (meditation) leads to connection; scrolling o lead to detachment.

People who think they're smarter than the Bible, clearly haven't read wha

If we let someone less smart guide our life, they can only destine as far

It's harder to do complex internal questions, whilst busy doing things.

Fungi create mycelium, which is the neural network of nature; it does the need vitamin B12; which is found in fungi.

When we only give half the attention, we get less impact.

If we avoid giving our soul the attention, we don't truly listen to others e

Oneness has to start within, before it spreads outwardly.

Down near Hell, loathe that which fits in, and love that which excels aga

Being a diamond down near Hell; Is better than swallowing a pill, And then Claiming our self superior; Whilst deeming everyone else inferior.
Recognizing the reality, Defeats the vanity; Where we've all got inner de don't need to live in fear.

Our finger print proves we're in a reality with one Source, and that there is no matrix.
Greek logic was that our reality is all made from logical equations i.e. Mathematics
It is thus illogical to believe there is no Source (God).

People who act like bums, often crap on others to get ahead, as they already are at the bottom.

If we don't first meditate on the right direction, others will direct us.

Cognitive bias was a planned epidemic.

Imagine if we didn't celebrate the false Christmas ideology, and all under the Santa Claus looks like Fly Agaric - It could be a lot more magical at Yuletide.

Until we're truly in a state of peace, nothing smoothly flows - we cause our own problems.

When we move from 'want to', into we'd 'love to', we see that 'have to', 'must do' can be depressive.

We can not untie a knot, until we find the thread, and we can not solve a problem in a hurry.

The more limited the path, the more people fight to defend their position, but doesn't make us lost, it can make us know the way.

We always travel along something; yet a journey doesn't always require a destination.

We can't make headway without space.

Choose to love; not to only click like.

Live to love; not live to hate.

It is best not to disregard information, questioning perspectives doesn't destroy them.

If we paint when the paint isn't wet, it doesn't spread.
If we write when the pen isn't flowing, the ink doesn't stay.
First sort the internal workings, before proceeding to explain something.

We were all an expression of cuddles once upon a time.

By the very nature of life, it is in a state of decay; so preserve that which is valuable.

Most of the time, it isn't how we fall that matters, yet how we land.

Here are gaming dynamics, that when we apply to life, answer many ques

1st) Finding requirements.

2nd) Fulfilling requisites.

3rd) Finishing conquests.

4th) Winning pecking order.

5th) Mastering the techniques.

Spiritually being attractive internally is alluring; whereas being repressi repressions.

Chi is more important than doing things, as we often have to do twice as

It is hard to get to where we really want to go, until we've set our rudder wind can only push us.

If we're not comfortable in our own space, it doesn't matter what we've g

We attract reality from how we are within; our ego is our external reflect from Source.

Find blaming the political puppet show for being a comedy, is like saying and then the Crocodile is coming.

Who we choose as confidants, affects our confidence.

We can either elevate or deflate, depending how we relate.

We will never be content, until we accept things as they are; plus we wo we understand it.

It's a nice ideal to live in harmony, yet if everything around us is crumbl
If we attend to the things that are crumbling, then we can have harmony, real life.

We live in a holographic reality, where there is more space in atomic str

Why play an extra, when you're the lead.

What if hell is full of grammar, and heaven has no form?

Therefore a grimoire is grammar; a book of spells in Hell, which produce
Heaven has no factor, thus doesn't need a protractor; as on every degree

Shepherds will check the pen; sheep settle for it.

Real power comes from the structuring within building good foundations; force is used to maintain it.

Real magic goes beyond the laws.

Head uphill, in a world going downhill.

Think we were always in a symbiosis with nature; just some of us have forgotten.

Live your life to be inspired, not only desired.

As for divinity within all, light shines on nature; yet its roots grow in the earth.

Solving our own cryptic crossword, leads to finding light within.

Don't just be a pawn played in the game; realize the destination, become the player.

Everyone has a part to play in the puzzle, don't blame others for being lost; find out how they fit into the overall picture.

Near hell practising to be an angel.

Without first knowing our own true inner reflection, inner fears fester with us; giving love truly.

Blood is thicker than water, spirit is stronger than flesh.

"DMT is illegal"; which is really strange when it's the pineal gland, that produces it. Please everyone don't dream, else you're breaking the law.

The glass always has extra space for potential.

If you say "yes", when you mean "no"; often you'll do the opposite.

It's just taking steps in a direction and once you start a journey, you see the path.

2 main party politics, 2 main religions... Considering one is clearly rigged, how do we contemplate the other might be?

Keep the fire of faith in your heart; don't let others blow it out, just because they're afraid.

Continually practise being within unconditional love, within your own heart.

In purgatory, it's not all a sharp bed of roses; some are beautiful.

Seeking to be in love, when we can be love.

Whilst people keep repeating "it's paradise"... Everything causes an equal and opposite reaction. So instead, why not try saying "here is a big compost heap (Gehenna)"; that's a better place, rather than worse.

Isn't it strange, that a witch knew more about creating a living medicine than a doctor?

who can prescribe death, does now.

Compassion Before Passion.

You can teach an old dog new tricks; you just have to repeat it multiple times.

Wisdom is the Key, Unconditional Love is the Answer.

Hate blinds us to the truth; so much we will even distort what we see, to fit our preconceived ideas of truth.

Love Unconditionally, Feel Passionately, Trust Truthfully, Teach Patiently.

A quick smack, is far better than having to knock them out later!

Disclaimer - Looking for more politically correct wording?

If we want to be conscious in Hell, we need to find inner focus, and walk through the shadows can trip us up.

Just because you aren't on the inside of the bars, doesn't mean that was your fault.

Succeed like someone told you, "you'll never be able to do that!"

Why would you be a light worker, when we can be light emitters?

When the ego quietens, the spirit enlightens.

In this world full of lies; it is far easier to establish the fallacy in a subject than to establish the truth, built upon lies.

Force doesn't make a funky rhythm; ingenuity and timing does.

When in Hell, don't be like the Romans.

Find we're like a melody in life, and it is all about learning to share it; so we can all hear it.

We are in a giant conscious symphony; where every note is a character, every instrument is a soul...

Unfortunately some people are so busy with reading the sheet music; they miss the melody.

Belief is a weak form of actually knowing.

It is true we should study every word; yet not so long that we don't see the forest for the trees.

Pay attention to who controls the strings; don't blame the puppets.

Never think you are not a winner; as if you hadn't won the race to begin with, you were born.

Confidence is an illusion; that is based on the ability to exuberate stability.

Transduce:

Hate into Love.

Fear into Faith.

Anger into Peace.

Anyone who thinks their logic is without error, has a flaw in logic somewhere.

There are many opinions, and between them we can build a bridge of understanding.

Like destiny has a course, and regardless of which way you sail, we still reach the destination it has chosen.

Note to self, stop offering flatteries to soothe the ego - it leads to delusion.

Righteousness isn't a merit badge we get, it is an uphill struggle.

Looking at other perspectives isn't a bad path, as we don't need to go down it.

Happiness isn't something we attain, it is something we have to always work for.

People won't move until the grass is greener; plus often don't move until it's gone.

Being open to being delusional, is the first steps to being rational in this world.

Putting up with something, is not loving.

The masculine can inflate an idea, the feminine can encompass it; together they create reality.

On the road to understanding God, individual religions are only the stepping stones to the other side.

We don't need to remove people's selfish natures; we need to learn to work with the situation we have... Thus everyone can be selfishly motivated to make a better world.

The Tao is the Wisdom & Logic stemming from the Core of reality; the Dharmic is the righteous path that flows with it.

Many want to live like Gods; yet not to act like one.

The symphony that the CPU sings, makes all these unique melodies as the hardware plays.

Never start a war; always look to implore.

Acceptance of how we feel helps, and transparency can lead us to it.

Belief has a lie, knowing is subjective, showing is objective.

Children compete, adults relate, grandparents raise.

Meditation isn't about finding silence; it is about learning to listen to the Watch the Game, not the Self.

Without the ups and downs, it doesn't make good music.

Nothing out there, can ever complete our own soul.

Instead of reflect self love with the light from the Source; let the unconditional permeate through everything, by not over attaching to the self.

A sense of completion satisfies us.

When we've learned to see that externally blaming, leads to three fingers wisdom of reflection within, creates light to share.

If we walk away from light, we create shadows in the process... When we to paint both.

Yoga mats prevent ionization within earthing.

Religion wasn't about following someone; it is about following something

We all need to fix things to get over them; leaving the bridges broken floor bricks, doesn't fix the path.

Like skipping invites a step, a comma invites a word.

Truth is established when we remove all the fallacies from a subject; most remotely resembles it, as they look for truth, not fallacies.

When passing blame instead of assigning, it gives part of the equation a Practise being a success; not living a failure.

To rush a moment, spoils its timing; to awkwardly pause a phrase, can ca

Movement creates time. Alcohol slurs timing, and inflates gravity. Blame Entheogens help quantify our timing. Meditation leads to embracing the i Inspire zeal, by being real.

If someone is really listening to people they take notes; many just wanna Thus watch if they limit time, as they can't really be bothered to listen.

When only looking for our own authenticity, often that is all we will find.

If you splash after a ball in water, it moves further away; open your arms current.

The longer it takes to complete something, the more satisfaction it gives
So enjoy the longer journey.....

You might as well ask for a swimming pool of manure, and learn to swim;
shit in your life repeatedly.

Stop yearning for what you haven't got; start learning to be what you have.

Wonder if depression is us trying to run off from our past, by running into it, comprehending it, and then using it to surf on.

We should be building bridges, instead of walls and it takes the same amount of time.

An old soul realizes we are all children at heart from a young age; where the expectations that age brings wisdom.

Tell Lies Vision, Programs Us!

True democracy is voting for the things you need, and not the people you need.

My Momma said, 'Life is like a box of chocolates... Someone took all the nuts.'