Summary: Most people haven't been taught early church history, and so have been misled by the Anti-Christ's teachings.

Prophetically Zechariah 11 was fulfilled when the Sanhedrin rejected Yeshua's offer of the Abrahamic covenant in Zechariah 11:10. When they paid 30 pieces of silver for his head, they divorced themselves nullifying the Sinai covenant in Zechariah 11:10.

The early church were called the Ebionites in contexts of Zechariah 11:10. These all gave up wealth, were vegetarian, and believed the commandments of the Kingdom of Heaven; the same as Yeshua taught when asked in Matthew 19:16-21, Mark 10:17-22 - that if we are to gain eternal life, we should follow the commandments and give up wealth.

The early church with James the Just head of the Church of Jerusalem stood against the Christianity, which claimed Yeshua came to die as an atoning sacrifice. Before the Sanhedrin, it had been that the "death of the righteous could atone for the sins of a generation"; which Yeshua had stood against (Matthew 23:27-38, Mark 7:9-13, Parable of the Wicked Husbandmen, that after his death, they'd teach you to do as he did, yet you'd be condemned by God).

The early Ebionite Church shared bread in remembrance, the same as Yeshua's Last Supper; where he specifically told them not to drink of the vine least they become drunk (1 Corinthians 10:42, Mark 9:41).

Yet Pharisaic Judaism, and then the Roman Catholic Church endorsed the ceremony of the Eucharist, and thus Holy Communion was established as a form of drinking the blood of an immortal, we will gain eternal life.

Simon left the Ebionites, and joined Paul creating Christianity in Antioch where Yeshua called him Petros, meaning a small pebble that will trip us up. Zechariah 3:9, and Isaiah 8:14-16 that before Yehoshua there will be a savior who will deceive the nations.

The reason Pauline Christianity needed to be invented was that the Roman Empire was based on a high taxation of the people, which the Sanhedrin organized. To escape this, everyone gave up wealth, and joined Yeshua's 'cult', as they didn't accept him as a descendant of David, and King of Israel, they felt this would end the movement. Eventually the Roman Empire ransacked Israel for 3 and half years, resulting in death and flesh due to starvation; as prophesied in Zechariah 11:9, and Deuteronomy 28:24-27.

Which meant the Curse of Moses can be proven to be placed two thousand years ago as we can show from history; that Deuteronomy 28 has happened to the world in the last two thousand years because of it.

Paul went out of his way rewriting these prophecies, and making it seem like Jews are still a chosen people; whereas they were cut off, and those who commit adultery as Yeshua stated in Matthew 5:27-32. The statement in Matthew 18:9, 'if you take out the right eye, and removing the right arm is in reference to Zechariah 11:12, which was fulfilled to humanity for the last two thousand years, making the religion of Judaism a curse and not about the Lord's.

Paul goes into great emphasis of how we have to work to pay the Roman Empire, which taught God gave everything we need for free.

Muhammad's uncle was said to be an Ebionite, and when his uncle died, the Ebionites stopped. Which means it is likely that the knowledge in the Quran came from the Ebionite Church (Nazarenes), who were opposite to Christianity.

When the Bible is read that John, Paul, and Simon were Pharisaic Christians, and James, Jude, Revelation, and the Synoptic Gospels, it makes far more sense than the Wheat and Tares, & the Sheep and Goats.
