Transfiguration

Winding down after a long day...breathing in the freshness of a crisp night they chase across the earth. Her warmth, so deep penetrating and pulsating within.

December brings the end of the earth's calendar, yet there is no end, the illusion. The fear of self is the misunderstanding within the hearts of humanity.

The people themselves who have eyes, yet do not see they are changing, changing. Oh trust me brothers and sisters she will change without your and destruction she will survive, even if humanity is challenged otherwise.

Why fear such change when to flow with it would seem the wise choice. She serves in this new shift. Our thoughts now will be the new force that cause will no longer be self-serving power bringing us to our feet. For self-serving is impotent and resists with a mighty roar. Stand up and be accountable, let Change will have its way.

Nature will see to it.

A Divine Power leads us now.

The Mother and The Father united again.

Allow imagination to bring forth manifestation of a world created in a child's dreamt and remembered by a few. Remember that the stars are not just for our viewing pleasure.

Certainly all of us have pondered at some time what their purpose is. Thank our Milky Way. Show appreciation for what is before you now.

Freedom is yours if you seek it within, allow not earth to become your prison create within a new earth one thought and prayer at a time.

The awakening...the shift is here! Make haste to do what you are called to between the old and the new waiting for those who dare to cross through consummating its union, not to be consumed rather a new life conceived.

A new earth, and a new consciousness in humanity birthed from within the Transformation willed and delivered forth into the hands of a new era.

Love and Light,
