Rationality will help us understand our world around us. The law of conservation of matter cannot be created neither destroyed, it can only be transformed; whatever exists, always have existed, since you cannot create matter out of nothing.

In my experience, God is a soul. A soul who never takes birth in a body; transcends dualities and experiences that otherwise, we human beings have to go through. There are many souls too, but we take a body.

A soul cannot create matter, because matter is not created. (law of conservation of matter). God's task is to remind us who we are. In this world of dualism, we have become body-conscious (vices of greed, attachment, lust, ego, anger, fear, etc.). We are also soul-conscious (peaceful, blissful, loveful, knowledgeable).

Once we understand that the world has always existed and always will exist through different changes, then we see that this is consistent with the law of conservation of matter. Time as a cycle, we will see that time is eternal; time is change and movement. A matter of fact predestination in cyclical time means repetition. In other words, recurrence... this note I wrote before, and I will write it again, once the world ends and I will do it again and again....for eternity.
