Thank you Dude ;) for sharing your experiences. here is a good website www.americanantigravity.com for anyone who's a questioner of what Dude fact David Sereda, a UFO and physics expert just posted an article there dimensions, and proving that God does exist through science, not just faith. I care to share i'd love to hear it... also i'd love to hear a lot more about the universe ... i.e. humanoids from other planets, and what their roles are in the universe is humongous, beyond belief, beyond imagination, beyond reality. I do not believe we are the only ones. So what are their religions? Do they all worlds been taken over by satan already instead? As what appears to be the evil and greed goes. I always pictured God and Satan in a metaphorical sense in the Universe, the caring loving kind intelligent creatures, and lucifer we give a crap about the human race... which would probably be an irrational argument such as.. well the universe is teeming with life, experiments with anything. I believe it's all about morals, and if we evolved with no direct everything as well, and eventually as we ventured into space we'd do the same. I'd like to open up and be honest on views about the Bible, thanks for the response. I'd appreciate it deeply.
